6.1 Telling Public Radio's Story

Jump to question: 6.1 ▼

The purpose of this section is to give you an opportunity to tell us and your community about the activities you have engaged in to address community needs by outlining key services provided, and the local value and impact of those services. Please report on activities that occurred in Fiscal Year 2017. Responses may be shared with Congress or the public. Grantees are required to post a copy of this report (Section 6 only) to their website no later than ten (10) days after the submission of the report to CPB. CPB recommends placing the report in an "About" or similar section on your website. This section had previously been optional. Response to this section of the SAS is now mandatory.

Joint licensee Grantees that have filed a 2017 Local Content and Services Report as part of meeting the requirement for TV CSG funding may state they have done so in the corresponding questions below, so long as all of the questions below were addressed as they relate to radio operations in such report. You must include the date the report was submitted to CPB along with the TV Grantee ID under which it was submitted.

Jump to question: 6.1 ▼

1. Describe your overall goals and approach to address identified community issues, needs, and interests through your station's vital local services, such as multiplatform long and short-form content, digital and in-person engagement, education services, community information, partnership support, and other activities, and audiences you reached or new audiences you engaged.

WGTV's ongoing mission and goal is to open up the airwaves to provide a voice to unserved and underserved audiences in the Quad Cities Metropolitan area. WGTV broadcasts programming, public service announcements, community events, and local content that was not previously available to minorities and other underserved audiences in the Quad Cities. WGTV provides the Quad Cities' only community radio educational health and social public service message campaign 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. As such, WGTV is the best medium to reach African American, other ethnic groups, and the community-at-large with critical health and social messages to promote healthy lifestyles and prevention to make a positive change in the communities it serves. WGTV is committed to creating programming and outreach activities that expressly benefit our communities' African American population who have traditionally been underserved and underrepresented by local media. WGTV is a line of communication between African Americans, schools, churches, health and social service organizations, and merchants providing products and services which meet their needs. Our goal is to raise the communities' awareness of our radio service and to promote diversity through programming which reflects the culture and traditions of African Americans. WGTV is building a social media audience and engaging our target audience through the WGTV website, Facebook, and Twitter.

2. Describe key initiatives and the variety of partners with whom you collaborated, including other public media outlets, community nonprofits, government agencies, educational institutions, the business community, teachers and parents, etc. This will illustrate the many ways you're connected across the community and engaged with other important organizations in the area.

Community Partners Program: WGTV's Community Partners Program is designed to create connections between our listeners and local government, educational institutions, and the nonprofit community at large in an effort to strengthen the growth of local public service providers, artistic organizations, and awareness-raising groups. Establishing a relationship with WGTV through a Community Partnership enables local government and nonprofits to raise more focused and effective awareness of their mission, events, and issues. Health and Social Programming: Since it began broadcasting in 2004, WGVV has produced and aired over 3,800 free educational, health, and social messages. This programming disseminates information to bring critical issues and problems to the public's attention and raise awareness among African Americans, Hispanics, other ethnic groups on health-related problems and social issues deemed important in the community. This programming offers high risk, under skilled and unemployed youth and adults, single parents, and the general population an opportunity to increase their knowledge of health issues of traditionally underserved populations and provides information about community agencies and services available. Our programming reaches out to individuals most at risk, encouraging them to change their behavior, and motivate youth and young adults to participate in these programs by educating the community. WGVV acts as the central and main free resource for cultural information and entertainment designed to benefit the underserved and diverse populations by providing a channel for educational institutions, local government, businesses, and nonprofit organizations to reach youth and adults of all races that did exist before WGVV began broadcasting in October 2004. Educational Outreach Initiative: Since 2010, WGVV has had a strong partnership with Rock Island/Milan School District #41 and is proud to partner with the school district for this year long "Stay In School" Campaign. Thanks to the City of Rock Island Gaming Funds grants, WGVV was able to re-establish this year long campaign to educate and raise awareness among youth, parents, and the community about the importance of staying in school and graduating. This year long programming reaches more youth, parents, and the community with critical messages and helps make a tremendous difference in the effectiveness of the goals and activities. Messages are concentrated to coincide with the school districts calendar year. Content for these public service messages are created by students, teachers, principals, parents, and community members. WGVV is working with approximately 60 students in the Rock Island High School Student Ambassador Program consisting of juniors and seniors. The Rock Island High School Student Ambassadors are excited about participating in the WGVV/RISD #41 "Stay in School Campaign". The student ambassadors record the PSAs. The Station Manager trains individuals in voice over techniques and the general operations of the station. The Rock Island High School Student Ambassadors recorded a "Stomp Out Bullying" message that was aired during the months of October, November and December 2016. The students have expressed interest in having a "Stay in School" picnic and a Diversity Talent Show. Rock Island High School students will use their acting, singing, dancing, musical, and other talents to share their thoughts about diversity, inclusion, and anti-bullying. This will be a powerful example of the positive social change that young people can contribute if we give them opportunities to share their voices. Without support and sponsors, these events cannot happen since the State of Illinois budget impasse has put the school district in a dire financial condition. WGVV received a grant in August 2017 to support the Rock Island Student Diversity Talent Show. WGVV is one of the sponsors for the RISD #41 Ready to Rock the School Year Back-to-School Celebration held each year at Schwiebert Park. The station airs the RISD #41's announcements and gave away 24 back packs filled with school supplies at the event held on July 30, 2017. The station's DJ also provided the music for the event. This programming has the potential to reach an estimated 35,000 youth, teens, parents, and teachers in the Rock Island/Milan, Davenport, Bettendorf, and Moline School Districts of which 14,736 are minorities. WGVV Internship Program: WGVV provides underserved youth and adults populations with opportunities to acquire hands-on radio training and skills designed to increase cultural and ethnic diversity in the media and gain practical experience in the general operation of a radio station, production, announcing, producing broadcasting promotional print, and underwriting who might not have these opportunities available elsewhere. Since 2013, WGVV has had three African American college students participate in the WGVV Broadcast Internship Program. WGVV Broadcast Internships offer participants a wide array of hands on experience in radio broadcasting and practical business experience including voice overs and audio production for announcements, communicating with clients for underwriting sales, fundraising development, participating on the WGVV Community Advisory Board, and the WGVV Marketing "Street Team" that hit the streets to promote WGVV's events and activities. After completing the WGVV Intern Program, one intern was elected as the President of the WGVV Community Advisory Board and another WGVV Intern, manages, maintains, and updates the WGVV website content, Facebook, and Twitter social media accounts. Black History Month Programming: Each year WGVV celebrates Black History Month with special programming - "Moments in African American History". This programming is designed to recognize African American people and organizations making a difference in society past and present. This programming is featured throughout the entire month of February. For Black History Month 2018, WGVV will also be highlighting local African Americans who have made contributions to the Quad Cities Metropolitan Area. The primary source of funding for WGVV's "Moments in African American History" programming is from sponsors and local businesses.

3. What impact did your key initiatives and partnerships have in your community? Describe any known measurable impact, such as increased awareness, learning or understanding about particular issues. Describe indicators of success, such as connecting people to needed resources or strengthening conversational ties across diverse neighborhoods. Did a partner see an increase in requests for related resources? Please include direct feedback from a partner(s) or from a person(s) served.

WGVV's Community Partners Program and Economic Development Initiative has made a significant impact in the sustainability and growth of minority owned, start up, and small businesses in the Quad Cities. WGVV's programming and services has had a positive impact and benefited a significant number of businesses, organizations, and residents by providing direct access to their targeted audience. WGVV works with approximately 150 businesses and organizations each year and provides them with services ranging from producing customized underwriting donor announcements to local event public service announcements that reach WGVV's 26,600 listeners. WGVV's partnerships continue to strengthen the local economy by providing start up businesses, small underserved businesses and larger companies with a cost effective, targeted means of reaching African American consumers and the general public. Many retail establishments in Rock Island have expressed satisfaction with the effectiveness of underwriting programming on WGVV. The primary economic impact of WGVV's programming and services to these businesses is that it generates an increasing, demonstrable customer base as well as generating increased attendance at events. Before WGVV began broadcasting, start-up, small, underserved businesses, churches, and organizations had no channel to reach the African American community other than flyers, church announcements, and newspapers. Television and commercial radio is not an option for most small businesses and not-for-profit organizations because of its high cost and the general market media do not usually promote not-for-profit businesses and events. Underwriting programming on WGVV has provided businesses and organizations with a cost-effective way of reaching thousands of youth, minorities, and the general public. The following is some of the feedback WGVV has received from the community: Rock Island High School Principal Tim Wermentin: "On behalf of the Rock Island High School I am writing a Letter of Support for WGVV's "Stay In School" radio campaign for the 2015-2016 school year. We appreciated the chance to be involved with the campaign last year and feel that for it to be a continued success we need to be consistent and keep the program going. Rock Island High School students and staff are happy to work with WGVV's campaign to create Public Service Announcements that will help instill a conviction in our students that it is important to stay in school and graduate. Involving students in any awareness endeavor helps add to the credibility of the message. As students are bombarded with messages every day at school, creating awareness outside of the classroom about attendance is key to reinforcing the importance of staying in school. In August we had a very successful back to school rally called Ready to ROCK the School Year and we appreciated WGVV's involvement in making it fun for the students and parents. Thank you again for your support of Rock Island High School!" SBC Music & Arts Academy, Executive Director, Carmen Ausborn: "SBC Outreach Music & Arts Academy has benefited and recognizes the importance of WGVV's radio services and attributes this programming to the success of the Music Academy. Due to WGVV's support to our organization it has grown immensely because a wider audience is being reached. WGVV has provided support to the Academy since it opened its doors in February 2007 through its free public service announcements about upcoming registration, fundraisers, and spring/fall recitals. WGVV is vital to the community and the SBC Outreach Music and Arts Academy give it our full support."

4. Please describe any efforts (e.g. programming, production, engagement activities) you have made to investigate and/or meet the needs of minority and other diverse audiences (including, but not limited to, new immigrants, people for whom English is a second language and illiterate adults) during Fiscal Year 2017, and any plans you have made to meet the needs of these audiences during Fiscal Year 2018. If you regularly broadcast in a language other than English, please note the language broadcast.

WGVV has a strong partnership with the Rock Island County NAACP to enhance its presence and effectiveness in providing increased access to advocacy and educational services that will promote equity for individuals in Rock Island County and the communities it serves. This collaboration was formed in 2015 to help the NAACP reach WGVV's estimated 26,600 weekly listeners and the general population with critical messages to address problems seen nationwide in the minority community. We are pleased to be a part of this important partnership and collaboration. WGVV is unique in its contribution to this collaboration since it is the only urban contemporary broadcast station in the Quad Cities that reaches nearly 26,600 listeners each week. WGVV reaches more minority listeners than any other medium in the Quad Cities Metropolitan area. On June 25, 2016, WGVV 92.5 Radio was recognized at the Rock Island County NAACP 2016 Freedom Fund Banquet and Image Awards with the Entertainment Image Award. WGVV produces and airs free PSAs covering the NAACP events and activities. WGVV works with local arts/cultural groups including the SBC Music & Arts Academy in Rock Island, IL. Since its inception in January 2007, WGVV has been the Academy's sole source for promoting its events and activities. WGVV provides free PSAs for the Academy to promote its spring and fall registration, events, and activities. The SBC Outreach Music & Arts Academy provide students and adults of all ages in Rock Island and surrounding communities' with high quality affordable instruction in the performing arts. WGVV has a strong partnership with Augustana College who sponsors many events on campus including the annual Kwanzaa celebration, the African-American Leadership Conference and Black History Month events. WGVV produces and airs free PSAs and paid underwriting announcements to promote these events that raise public awareness and pride in the history and traditions of African American culture, music, and arts.

5. Please assess the impact that your CPB funding had on your ability to serve your community. What were you able to do with your grant that you wouldn't be able to do if you didn't receive it?

As an independent, locally owned and operated community broadcast station, WGVV depends on support from underwriting or donor announcements. Without CPB funding, WGVV would be unable to provide programming and services at our present level of quality. The Community Service Grant enables WGVV to continue to sustain the high quality of its successful programming and expand its community outreach programs, projects, and services to the Quad Cities communities we serve.
